

A FAMOUS REMEDY

"Tender My cough with German Syrup!"
He wrote to Dr. G. G. Green.
"An' as true as I tell you, doctor dear,
I'm feelin' finer than ever I've been!"

The poor consumptive should not be the victim of experiment, as he often is, but the moment the dread disease manifests its presence he should be given Bo-schee's German Syrup—a pure, non-alcoholic medicine that is made specially for the cure of consumption, and has a world-wide fame as a certain remedy for catarrh, colds, coughs, croup, sore throat and all bronchial affections in old and young. It is sold in all civilized countries, and has been famous as a consumption cure for almost half a century.

World's Largest Tree.

During the month of August, 1902, there was discovered in the Sierras, east of Fresno, Cal., the biggest known tree in the world. It was later visited by John Muir, the naturalist, who reports that its circumference at the base is one hundred and nine feet, or a diameter of thirty-six and one-half feet. At four feet above the ground the circumference was ninety-seven feet. This tree is considerably larger than "General Sherman" and "General Grant," the two which heretofore were the recognized monarchs of all "Big Trees." It has been suggested by some one that this tree be named for our president, "Theodore Roosevelt."

Cured of Bright's Disease.

Geo. A. Sherman, Lisbon Red Mills, Lawrence county, N. Y., writes: "I had kidney disease for many years and had been treated by physicians for 12 years; had taken a well known kidney medicine and other remedies that were recommended, but got no relief until I began using Foley's Kidney Cure. The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Before I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every 15 minutes, day and night, and passed a brick dust substance, and sometimes a slimy substance. I believe I would have died if I had not taken Foley's Kidney Cure."

A Philadelphia baker was recently called on to furnish a strange wedding cake. The bride-to-be was a journalist, and the cake was required to be in the shape of a huge fountain pen. In one portion a bulb was concealed and when pressed caused red wine to spurt out of the pen, so that the guests could at once eat the wedding cake and drink the bride's health.

Neglected Colds.

Every part of the mucous membrane, the nose, throat, ears, head and lungs, etc., are subjected to disease and blight from neglected colds. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is a pleasant and effective remedy.

W. Kendrick, Valley Mills, Tex., writes: "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup for coughs and throat troubles; it is a pleasant and most effective remedy."

In Advance of Population.

There are many sections of the south which hardly justify the building and operation of steam roads, but which are full of agricultural or other opportunities simply awaiting the transportation facilities to be developed by thrifty farmers. There are other sections in the highlands almost unattainable from a business standpoint by steam railroads, but yet capable of giving profit to the lighter equipment and easier adjustment of the trolley line and containing within themselves the means for generation of electric power. The extension of the trolley lines into such regions must certainly be followed by an increase in population, and with that increase will be overcome many of the drawbacks of rural life.

A Cold Settled in His Kidneys.

A. J. Jenness, 9201 Butler St., Chicago, writes: "I am a switchman and am out in all kinds of weather. I took a cold which settled in my kidneys and I was in bad shape. I tried several advertised remedies with no benefit, until I was recommended to try Foley's Kidney Cure. Two-thirds of a bottle cured me."

It is a remarkable fact that of the big army of ball players which has traveled from coast to coast, in all kinds of weather, through blizzards, cyclones and tornadoes, that few, if any, serious accidents have occurred during the forty years or more of organized baseball. Time and time again circuses and theatrical companies have been wrecked, with serious loss of life, but the ball player seems to bear a charmed life.

Emergency Medicines.

It is a great convenience to have at hand reliable remedies for use in cases of accident and for slight injuries and ailments. A good liniment and one that is fast becoming a favorite is not a household necessity is Chamberlain's Pain Balm. By applying it promptly to a cut, bruise or burn, it allays the pain and causes the injury to heal in about one-third the time usually required, and as it is an antiseptic it prevents any danger of blood poisoning. When Pain Balm is kept at hand a sprain may be treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a quick recovery.

The traveler from Reno to Hawthorne, Nev., on the Carson and Colorado railway, often wonders at the large herds of horses seen in the desert along Walker lake, below the Walker Indian reservation. These horses are wild; not range animals gone wild, but wild horses. They are as wild as the horses that once covered the plains with the buffalo and antelope. If the passenger could cross Walker lake and travel among the treeless hills on its western side he would see hundreds and thousands of these wild horses in the course of a few weeks.

The Better Way

The tissues of the throat are inflamed and irritated; you cough, and there is more irritation—more coughing. You take a cough mixture and it eases the irritation—for a while. You take and it cures the cold. That's what is necessary. It soothes the throat because it reduces the irritation; cures the cold because it drives out the inflammation; builds up the weakened tissues because it nourishes them back to their natural strength. That's how Scott's Emulsion deals with a sore throat, a cough, a cold, or bronchitis.

Abscess.

Abscesses, with few exceptions, are indicative of constipation or debility.

W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss., writes, Aug. 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. F. Lord's drug store (who is now in Denver, Colo.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment; I got a 50c size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world."

Though the American Indian is dying out, what is left of the race manages to be comfortable. The Osages, of Oklahoma, are among the richest people in the world. The average bank deposit of every member of the tribe is $4,644 bringing in 5 per cent. per annum, while the land owned by each family is worth $11,500. The total red population of North America now amounts to some 400,000, of whom about 100,000 are in Canada and 30,000 in Alaska. During the last twenty years the United States Government has purchased from the Indians more than 6,000 square miles of land for which it has paid over $300,000,000.

Americans looking after trade in China are informed by our consular agents in that country that the introduction of an article into general use there means an immense sale. Where population is counted by the hundred millions, "general use" means something. At the same time there is room for a very considerable amount of goods which can not be regarded as actual necessities, and which in the United States would be regarded in the nature of luxuries. The wealthy class are ready to buy almost anything which appeals to their fancy, and this class is greatly on the increase.

A farce in the broadest sense and yet without a word of suggestion, one that was never intended for anything deeper than causing hysterics with its laughable situations, witty dialogue and impossible nonsense is the announced attraction, "My Wife's Family," at the Temple theater, September 27.

That old story of the henpecked husband, the more than usually obnoxious mother-in-law, and the family of nephews, cousins, sisters and numerous other relatives are served up with new and elaborate trimmings or bright sayings and catchy music, pretty girls and dazzling dance numbers. The story brings a vociferous mother-in-law to the home of her inoffensive son-in-law with her host of relations, among whom is a son lately married surreptitiously and the father of a three months' old child. Through a combination of mistakes the son-in-law is suspected, and has some hair-breadth escapes from his angry relations when the child is found in the house. After barely escaping with his life, explanations clear up the trouble and things end happily.

Arthur Don and Frank Beamish, the two comedians, as the friend and husband respectively, in dialogue, song and the excruciatingly funny automobile, are sure to create laughs galore, while there are over a dozen of the brightest of vaudeville specialties introduced during the action of the comedy by various members of the excellent organization.
